

Table of Contents

Foreword by Svein Sjøberg	7
An Introduction to Science Education Unlimited Tanja Tajmel and Klaus Starl	11
1. The Basis – Human Rights Aspects of Education
The Human Rights Approach to Science Education Klaus Starl	19
Special Protection for Migrants in Education? Stephanie Gilardi, Veronika Bauer, Sarah Kumar, Klaus Starl	37
Learning while Transgressing Boundaries – Understanding Societal Processes Impacting Students with a Migration Background Barbara Herzog-Punzenberger	49
2. The Challenge – Unlimited Access to Scientific Careers
Detect the Barriers and Leave Them Behind – Science Education in Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Classrooms Tanja Tajmel, Klaus Starl, Lutz-Helmut Schön	67
The Claim and the Reality of the “Knowledge Society” Klaus Starl and Veronika Bauer	85
“Bildungssprache” – The Importance of Teaching Language in Every School Subject Ingrid Gogolin	91
Equal Opportunities and Gender in Research: Germany’s Science Needs a Promotion of Quality Susanne Baer	103
What About the Gender Gap? The Aspirations of Female High School Students to Study Physics Tanja Tajmel and Zalkida Hadžibegović	111

Education in Turkey: In View of Children’s Rights to Education and Equal Opportunity in Education Münire Erden	119
3. The Response – Science Education in Diversity Classroom
Differences Between Students – Differences in Instruction? How to Make Physics Instruction Effective for All Students Rita Wodzinski and Christoph T. Wodzinski	137
German as a Second Language – Linguistic and Didactic Foundations Heidi Rösch	149
Ada Lovelace Mentoring – Engaging Girls and Women with Science and Technology Sylvia Neuhäuser-Metternich and Sybille Krummacher	169
Social Constructivism and Social Constructivist Curricula in Turkey to Meet the Needs of Young People Learning Science: Overview in the Light of the PROMISE Project Seval Fer	179
Does Migration Background Matter? Preparing Teachers for Cultural and Linguistic Diversity in the Science Classroom Tanja Tajmel	201
4. The Outlook – Conclusion and Recommendations
Towards Science Education Unlimited – Conclusion and Recommendations Klaus Starl and Tanja Tajmel	217
5. The Practice – Teaching and Teacher Training Material
The Practice – Material for Teaching and Teacher Training (CD-ROM) Tanja Tajmel and Klaus Starl	221
The Authors	225