

Contents

Robert Kordts-Freudinger, Rachelle Esterhazy and Edith Braun Editorial	7
Lien Demulder, Marlies Lacante and Vincent Donche Large scale measurements to support students in their transition to higher education The importance of including a non-cognitive perspective	11
Kinga Káplár-Kodácsy and Helga Dörner Diverse aspects of school-university partnership in mentoring teachers: roles, functions and potentials.....	21
Sari Lindblom-Ylänne and Telle Hailikari Exploring individual paths of university students: a follow-up multi-method case study	37
Tine Nielsen Measuring differences in Current Academic Learning Self-Efficacy (CAL-SE) and Current Academic Exam Self-Efficacy (CAE-SE) for social science students A Rasch-based multi degree-program validity study	57
Carla Kühling-Thees, Olga Zlatkin-Troitschanskaia, Marie-Theres Nagel, Reiko Yamada and Yuji Shirakawa Generic skills of economics and educational science students – insights from a German-Japanese study.....	83
Sonia Ilie, Jan D. Vermunt and Ashton Brown The role of reasoning ability in university students' cognitive and metacognitive skill development	99
Jasperina Brouwer, Ellen Jansen, Wim Krijnen and Matthijs Warrens Longitudinal data analysis of emotions of first-year students in an international degree programme	117
Nicholas Munro and Terry Shuttleworth Visualising achievement emotions through photo elicitation interviews A methodology for generating data on the dialectical tensions between pride, sadness, and hope among high achieving undergraduate students.....	131
Yusuke Sakurai, Jun Ishimatsu and Michiru Ito Using text mining in a diary study unpacking students' engagement in a short-term international course.....	151
Authors	165