

Contents

I. Introduction and Systematic Approaches

Wolfram Weisse, Julia Ipgrave, Oddbjørn Leirvik, Muna Tatari Introduction	11
Oddbjørn Leirvik Pluralisation of Theologies at Universities Approaches and Concepts	25
Marianne Moyaert Interfaith Learning in Academic Spaces	35
Nicholas Adams Plural Methods in the Study of Interreligious Relations	47

II. Pluralisation of Theologies and Religions in Universities of different European Countries

Approaches in England

Julia Ipgrave Approaches to Plurality in the Online Self-presentation of Theology and Religion Departments in English Universities	61
---	----

Approaches in The Netherlands

André van der Braak Pluralisation of Theology at Vrije Universiteit (VU) Amsterdam	93
--	----

Approaches in Norway

Anne Hege Grung Religious and Worldview Diversity, Dialogue and Pedagogy The Educational Promise of Complexity	105
---	-----

Approaches in Germany

University of Muenster

Dina El Omari, Mouhanad Khorchide, Perry Schmidt-Leukel
Pluralisation of Theologies at the University of Münster (Germany) 113

School of Jewish Theology at the University of Potsdam

Walter Homolka
The School of Jewish Theology at the University of Potsdam
Combining Jewish and Interreligious Academic Studies 127

Academy of World Religions, University of Hamburg

Wolfram Weisse
Pluralisation of Theologies at the University of Hamburg (Germany)
The Academy of World Religions and Dialogical Theology 141

Carola Roloff
Dialogue with Buddhism and Developments towards a
Buddhist Theology at the University of Hamburg 163

Halima Krausen
Engaging with a Plurality of Theologies in the Faculty.
Hamburg – a Muslim Perspective 187

Approaches in Austria

Handan Aksünger-Kizil
Alevi Theology in the Context of Religious Pluralisation
in Germany and Austria 199

Zekirija Sejdini
The Innsbruck Model of Interreligious Education 215

III. The Case of Islam in Universities of Different European Countries

Yaser Ellethy
Converse or Convert? Doing Islamic Theology
in a Pluralised European Context 229

Safet Bektovic
Muslim Theology in the Context of an Originally Christian Faculty
Pluralisation of Theologies at Oslo University 249

Ranja Ebrahim
Dealing with Plurality in Austria
The Case of Islamic Theology at the University of Vienna,
Department of Islamic-Theological Studies 261

Farid Panjwani, Zulfiqar Khimani
“Before the Words of my Lord are Spent”
Towards Sociotheology – the Case of Islam 273

Ataullah Siddiqui
Teaching Islam via “In-Built” Syllabi
Engaging Plurality within a Muslim Higher Education
Institution in England 287

IV. Comparison and Perspectives

Nicholas Adams
Theological Plurality in European Universities: Questions of Scale 301

List of Authors 313