Contents

Tivadar Petercsák, Balázs Borsos, Fruzsina Cseh & Csaba Mészáros
Self-Reflection, Challenges, and Prospects: Notes on the Current and Future State of Ethnography, as Presented in a Series of Conferences between 2018 and 2020..........................................................................................................7

Major Dilemmas

Balázs Balogh
The Dilemma of Basic and Applied Research in Hungarian Ethnography .................13

Róbert Keményfi, Károly Teperics, Éva Bihari Nagy & Máté Kavecsánszki
Ethnography and Cultural Anthropology in Higher Education ........................................25

Miklós Cseri & Lajos Kemecsi
Ethnography and Museology ..............................................................................................71

Veronika Lajos
Crucial Contemporary Scientific Questions and Challenges: A Reflection on the Relationship between Hungarian Ethnography and Sociocultural Anthropology .................................................................................................95

Csaba Mészáros
Ethnography and Anthropology as a Scientific Research Program ...............................113

József Ö. Kovács
Ethnography and Anthropology in Historical Research: A Personal Learning Process .............................................................................................133

Nature as Heritage

Zsolt Molnár & Dániel Babai
Ethno + Ecology: Cooperation between and beyond Scientific Disciplines for the Protection of Nature and Culture .................................................................157

Balázs Borsos
Ethno + Science? Notes on Ethnography and Other Sciences, and on the Various Definitions of Ethnoscience.................................................................169

Dániel Babai
The Need for Cooperation.................................................................................................175

László Mód & András Simon
Ethnography and Agricultural Production .....................................................................199
Culture as Heritage

Katalin Juhász
The Utilization of Ethnographic Research in Folk Dance and Folk Music Folklorism ................................................................. 213

Fruzsina Cseh
The Influence of Ethnography on Material Folk Art and Handicraft Heritage: The Situation Today ................................................................. 247

János Bali
The Role of Ethnography in the Redefinition of Values and Heritage: the Example of Hungarikums ................................................................. 269

Ethnographic Experience in Action

Károly Zsolt Nagy
From “a Den of Rogues” to Community Competencies.................................................. 285

Zsolt Szilágyi
Ethnology and Diplomacy: Research and Cooperation in the Changing Context of International Relations ................................................................. 307

Anikó Báti
New Opportunities for Ethnographic Research on Food Culture ................................................................. 329

Károly Zsolt Nagy
Ethno-Business, Ethnoporn, Etnofolk ................................................................. 345