

Table of Content

1.	Introduction	9
2.	Inclusive education in relation to society, school and teachers	18
2.1	Social inclusion, participation and preparing future citizens for a democratic, inclusive society.....	18
2.2	The background of inclusive education	21
2.3	Defining inclusive education.....	27
2.4	The role of teachers in creating inclusive classrooms	33
2.5	Summary and discussion	42
3.	Inclusive education: the cases of Austria and the Netherlands	45
3.1	Inclusive education in Austria	45
3.2	Another perspective on inclusive education: the case of the Netherlands.....	53
3.3	Summary and discussion	57
4.	Teacher professionalism, Bildung and Bildungsgangforschung	59
4.1	Teacher professionalism.....	59
4.2	Bildung , Bildungsgangforschung and developmental tasks	76
4.3	The state of research on developmental tasks of teachers	85
4.4	Summary of the chapter.....	93
5.	The reconstruction of teachers' professionalism: the documentary method	96
5.1	Critical realism, symbolic interactionism and ethnographic research.....	96
5.2	The problem-centred interview (PCI)	99
5.3	The interviews and observations put into practice	103
5.4	The documentary method	108
5.5	The reconstruction of three subject teachers' professionalism in relation to working in the integration class in a multiple case study.....	121
5.6	Triangulation, trustworthiness, reflexivity and generalization.....	127
5.7	Perspectives for the documentary method	132
5.8	Summary and discussion of the chapter.....	133
6.	The case of Eva – old versus new territory	135
6.1	A confession: Eva's motivation and priorities	135
6.2	Old versus new territory	146
6.3	Othering.....	149
6.4	Eva's pedagogical and didactic perspective	163
6.5	Eva's vision of inclusive education and integration	179
6.6	Eva's developmental tasks	181
7.	The case of Mia – transformability of the individual	184
7.1	A personal story: Mia's motivation.....	184
7.2	Pedagogical and didactic perspective: promoting the participation of all.....	189
7.3	Mia's humanistic philosophy and inclusive education/integration.....	213
7.4	Mia's developmental tasks.....	231

8. The case of Tom – education of the heart to transform society	234
8.1 A strong motivation	234
8.2 Tom’s philosophy: education of the heart.....	238
8.3 Pedagogical and didactic perspective.....	271
8.4 The meaning of inclusive education for Tom.....	280
8.5 Tom’s developmental tasks.....	284
9. Conclusion and discussion	287
9.1 Overview of the three cases.....	287
9.2 Coping with diversity on a pedagogical and didactic level.....	289
9.3 Cooperation with others.....	291
9.4 Acknowledging and promoting inclusive education in schools.....	292
9.5 Perspectives for inclusive education in Austrian secondary schools and internationally	295
References	303